Front Cover: Tall bearded iris HELLO TEMPTATION
INTRODUCTION
Welcome to our 2016 catalogue in which we offer a range of new tall bearded iris from John Taylor and Graeme Grosvenor and a wide selection of the latest and best iris and daylilies from around the world. This printed catalogue is an abbreviated version of the full catalogue which is available online at our website www.rainbowridgenursery.com.au. The printed catalogue features all the photos included in the online catalogue plus some additional garden shots featuring iris. This year we have included written descriptions for the new release TBs in the printed catalogue. Written descriptions for all other bearded and louisian iris and daylilies, as well as extended cultural notes, can be obtained online.
We have had a very exciting 2014/2015 including receiving many awards for our iris. Our two top TB winners were SCARED STIFF, winner of the 2014 Dykes Medal, and FOR GABRIELLE, winner of the 2014 Alan Johnson Medal. Awards of Merit were received for TBs FOR GABRIELLE, STRANGE HARMONY, SHARRELIZ, OUR LILY and BOYD. John's Californian iris 13-64 won the 2014 Gordon Loveridge Medal.
We are also excited with the many new iris we have imported over the last few years from the US and now have growing on. Some appear in this year's catalogue and others will be released over coming years.
John's garden, EIDOLIA PARK in Millthorpe, will be part of the 2015 Millthorpe Garden Ramble to be held over the weekend of Saturday/Sunday the 31st October/1st November 2015 between 10am and 4pm. We will be there with a stall selling bare rooted TBs and potted Californian Iris. Plenty of seating and food will be available. EIDOLIA PARK is located at 75 Charles Booth Way Millthorpe.
John’s garden is spread over 15 acres and is landscaped with iris, roses and many different and interesting plants, shrubs and trees. For further details on the Garden Ramble, including entrance charges, please email: millthorpegardenramble@gmail.com or visit the website http://www.millthorpevillage.com.au/).
John's garden will also be open on the weekends of 7th/8th, and 14th/15th November 2015 between 10am and 4pm. Again, we will be there with a stall selling bare rooted TBs and potted Californian Iris. Entry on these two weekends is by gold coin donation.
The NSW Region of the Iris Society of Australia will hold its 2015 annual show on Saturday and Sunday 24th/25th October 2015 between 11am and 4pm on Saturday and between 9am and 3pm on Sunday at the BLACKHEATH COMMUNITY HALL, Great Western Highway, BLACKHEATH. We will be there with a stall selling bare rooted TBs and potted Californian Iris. Please note that EIDOLIA PARK will not be open to the public except on the open days listed above.
We hope you enjoy our new catalogue and we look forward to seeing you in the spring.

Bearded iris (tall bearded, medians and dwarfs) are hardy perennials grown from rhizomes. They will survive in most climates but they do like cold winters. They are ideal plants for the southern states (VIC, TAS, SA), inland and high country areas of NSW and QLD, coastal NSW south of the central coast and Southern WA. They are not well suited to northern coastal NSW or coastal Queensland.

Bearded iris should be planted in a well prepared and fertile soil in an open position that gets as much sun as possible. Avoid the use of animal manures near the rhizomes as this may induce rot. We like to incorporate a small handful of an 8-9 month slow release fertilizer in the soil at planting time. Bearded iris like an alkaline soil so the soil is best prepared with a liberal dosing of lime or dolomite.

Rhizomes are best planted at a distance of 30cm-50cm apart and such that the top of the rhizome is at ground level. If desired, a massed effect can be achieved quickly by planting three to six plants of the one variety in close proximity. For best results, planting should be done between November and April but bearded iris can be moved at any time of the year without risk of loss. Clumps should be lifted and divided every 3-4 years.

Once planted the rhizomes should be well watered in for about three weeks to a month and then treated as a normal garden plant.

Bearded iris are classified according to height of bloom spikes and bloom period. Dwarfs grow to a maximum height of 40cm, medians from 41cm-70cm and tall bearded are above 70cm in height. The dwarfs flower first in the season, usually in August, followed by the medians with the talls the last to flower. Tall bearded can be chosen for their successful cultivation in the Sydney district. They will flourish in country areas and areas which have a colder winter. Dwarf iris, in general, do not grow well unless they have two months or more of really cold winter. They are not suitable for Sydney.

The time of bloom indicated in the descriptions is when they bloom for us and height of spike is approximate for our growing conditions. Whether a variety reblooms is also based on our experience. There will be variation from area to area and garden to garden.

LOUISIANA IRIS

Notes on Culture

Louisiana iris are water loving plants which originally came from the swamps of Louisiana in the US. They can be grown successfully in standing water, in damp or boggy areas such as along the edges of dams or as ordinary garden perennials as long as they are given plenty of water.

They are spectacular in warm, humid coastal areas such as along the NSW, Queensland, NT and WA coastlines. They also do well in all but the extremely cold parts of the southern states. The Taylor irises from Rainbow Ridge are known world-wide and John enjoys the reputation of being one of the world’s leading hybridisers.

Louisiana iris should be planted in a well-prepared and heavily composted soil. The soil should be moist but not sodden to quickly establish roots. It may be best to establish plants in pots before planting around dams or emersing in ponds. Once established, they will grow and increase very quickly. They can be grown in full sun or partial shade and need an acid soil. Alkaline soils can be improved by the addition of sulphur. Once Louisiana Iris are established they should be heavily mulched. Any well rotted animal manure or compost is excellent.

Rhizomes should be planted about 5cm below the soil surface and about 1m apart as they are vigorous growers and the rhizomes will spread among neighboring plants. Depending on vigour they can be replanted every 3-4 years but, if left undisturbed in the ground, they need to be fed heavily with animal manure and chemical fertilizers. They normally flower towards the middle and end of the tall bearded season.

Notes on Culture

Daylilies are very easy to grow and their cultural requirements are few but like most perennials they will give a more rewarding display if they are given care and attention. They are virtually disease and pest free and will grow anywhere in Australia. Snails and slugs can be a problem in among the plants but they rarely touch the flowers. Aphids can be a problem but are readily controlled. Spider mites can be a problem in hot dry weather conditions and will need to be attended to. They can be controlled naturally, by introducing predators or by using chemical sprays.

The daylily crown should be planted about 2cm below ground level and plants separated by 60cm to 80cm in a well-worked soil which has been improved by compost or manure. We use a slow release fertilizer at planting time to ensure good early and continued growth. The plants should be well watered until growth starts and they then should be treated to normal good garden care for best results. They will, however, withstand drought and will also grow well in wet conditions. Most varieties give their best display in full sun but again, they will grow well in semi-shade. We fertilize established clumps with Dynamic Lifter in late winter/early spring and again in late summer/early autumn. This seems to give the best results.

Flower size, growth and quantity of bloom will depend on time of planting, weather and cultural conditions. Best results will be obtained on second and third years clumps. Clumps are best divided after 3 or 4 years to maintain optimum flowers size, quality and quantity.

We will also be selling 12cm POTTED named Californian Iris (different varieties again) at the NSW Iris Society Show, at John Taylor's garden on Millthorpe Garden Ramble weekend, and at other Open Days this spring (see Introduction for details).

Californian iris, also referred to as Pacific coast iris, are native iris of the west coast of the US. They are, in general, evergreen and form small, compact plants that send up flowering spikes from early to mid spring. Foliage varies in height from 20cm to 45cm. Bloom sits beautifully above the foliage. While they are found in the foothills of higher ranges, Californian Iris are not alpine plants. They prefer high winter and early spring rain followed by long dryish summers. They tolerate cold in the winter and relish heat in the summer. While full sun is satisfactory in all but the hottest climates, most of these iris will grow best in a semi-shaded position.

Care must be taken when dividing and replanting to have only young divisions and only when the new white roots are forming in late autumn, early winter. (mid May to early June). When planting it is very important not to let the root system dry out, and once planted the ground should be kept damp until the plants are actively growing.

Feeding Californian iris consist of a 9 month slow-release fertilizer in mid to late May and then a light feed with a general rose food in early spring.

Californian iris can be used extensively in different garden situations. They can be used to give spectacular displays over a long period either as mass plantings in large garden beds or as long rows along paths or driveways. They are also great as feature or spot plantings among other perennials or annuals, they shine like beacons. Another great use is under planting for standardised plants in circular or square beds. Because these iris grow so well in pots, they can be grown to large potted specimens or used as companion plants in pots of various sizes with other perennials or annuals.

Plants come in a wide range of warm and cool colours - yellow, orange, gold, russet, red, white, shades of blue, violet and purple through to black. There are also pink, apricot, mauve, peach, orchid and heliotrope. With their veining and signal patches many of the Californian Iris are bicolours and bitones. Blending and contrasting styles also add to the beauty.
